MUMINEEN ACADEMY / LEARNING TOGETHER

Zakat.

When wealth becomes well-being.

An introduction to faith, responsibility,
and the dignity of giving.

01 / THE FOUNDATION

A pillar of faith.
A responsibility in wealth.

Zakat is an obligatory act of worship for Muslims when its conditions are met. It is one of Islam’s five pillars.

Faith · Prayer · Zakat · Fasting · Pilgrimage

Sahih al-Bukhari 8 ↗

02 / THE PURPOSE

Giving with purpose. Receiving with dignity.

01

Stewardship

Treat wealth as a responsibility.

02

Worship

Give with sincere intention.

03

Dignity

Respect the people who receive.

The Qur’an connects prayer, Zakat, and the good we send forward.

Qur’an 2:110 ↗

03 / WHEN IT BECOMES DUE

Two ideas to understand.
Nisab and hawl.

01

Nisab

The relevant minimum threshold for the type of wealth.

02

Hawl

For cash-like wealth, the relevant Islamic lunar-year condition.

The threshold, asset type, and timing must be considered together. Detailed conditions vary.

Nisab values change with gold or silver prices. Use current guidance; there is no permanent dollar cutoff.

04 / WHAT TO REVIEW

Look at qualifying wealth. Not simply your salary.

01 Cash & savings

02 Gold & silver

03 Business trading stock

04 Investments to assess

Ownership, purpose, asset type, and applicable deductions matter. A home or car used personally is not treated like trading stock.

Specialist assets and investments require appropriate guidance.

05 / THE COMMON RATE

One part in forty.
A meaningful share.

2.5%

A common annual rate for qualifying cash-like wealth, once the relevant conditions are satisfied.

This rate is not universal across every category of wealth.

06 / A SIMPLE WORKED EXAMPLE

From a principle to a number.

Assume $10,000 is the final eligible amount after the applicable assessment, and all conditions are met.

$10,000 × 2.5% = $250

Illustration only. This example does not determine anyone's personal liability.

07 / THE PEOPLE IT MUST REACH

Eight categories.
A defined responsibility.

01
People in poverty

02
People in need

03
Those administering Zakat

04
Hearts being reconciled

05
Freeing people from bondage

06
People burdened by debt

07
In the cause of Allah

08
Travellers in need

A concise paraphrase of Qur'an 9:60. The scope and application of categories require scholarly guidance.

Qur'an 9:60 ↗

08 / GIVE WITH CARE

A clear intention.
A trustworthy journey.

01

Intend

Be clear that the gift is Zakat.

02

Verify

Check the recipient and the distribution policy.

03

Deliver

Use a trustworthy, appropriate route.

04

Record

Keep useful records and follow up.

Responsible giving protects both the purpose of Zakat and the dignity of recipients.

Qur'an 9:60 ↗

09 / KNOW THE DISTINCTION

Zakat and Sadaqah.
Both giving. Different rules.

Zakat

Obligatory when conditions are met.

Defined rules for qualifying wealth and recipients.

Voluntary Sadaqah

A voluntary act of generosity.

More flexible in timing and amount.

Calling a contribution “charity” does not by itself make it a valid Zakat payment.

Islamic Relief · Sadaqah ↗

10 / EDUCATION & ZAKAT

A worthy mission.
A careful eligibility check.

An eligible student may receive support for education through an appropriate Zakat arrangement. That does not make every school expense Zakat-eligible.

> This presentation does not certify Mumineen Academy's general fundraising campaign as Zakat-eligible.

01 Ask about recipients

Who qualifies, and how is that assessed?

02 Ask about the structure

How are restricted funds handled and delivered?

03 Ask for qualified review

Which scholarly guidance supports the arrangement?

11 / A MOMENT FOR THE ROOM

What must we check before using 2.5%?

A. Only the person’s monthly salary.

B. Qualifying wealth and the relevant conditions. ✓

C. Whether the cause has an attractive campaign.

Discuss first. Then reveal the answer. · Discussion only; responses are not collected.

12 / FROM UNDERSTANDING TO ACTION

Know your responsibility. Give with intention.

Review

Your wealth and your Zakat date.

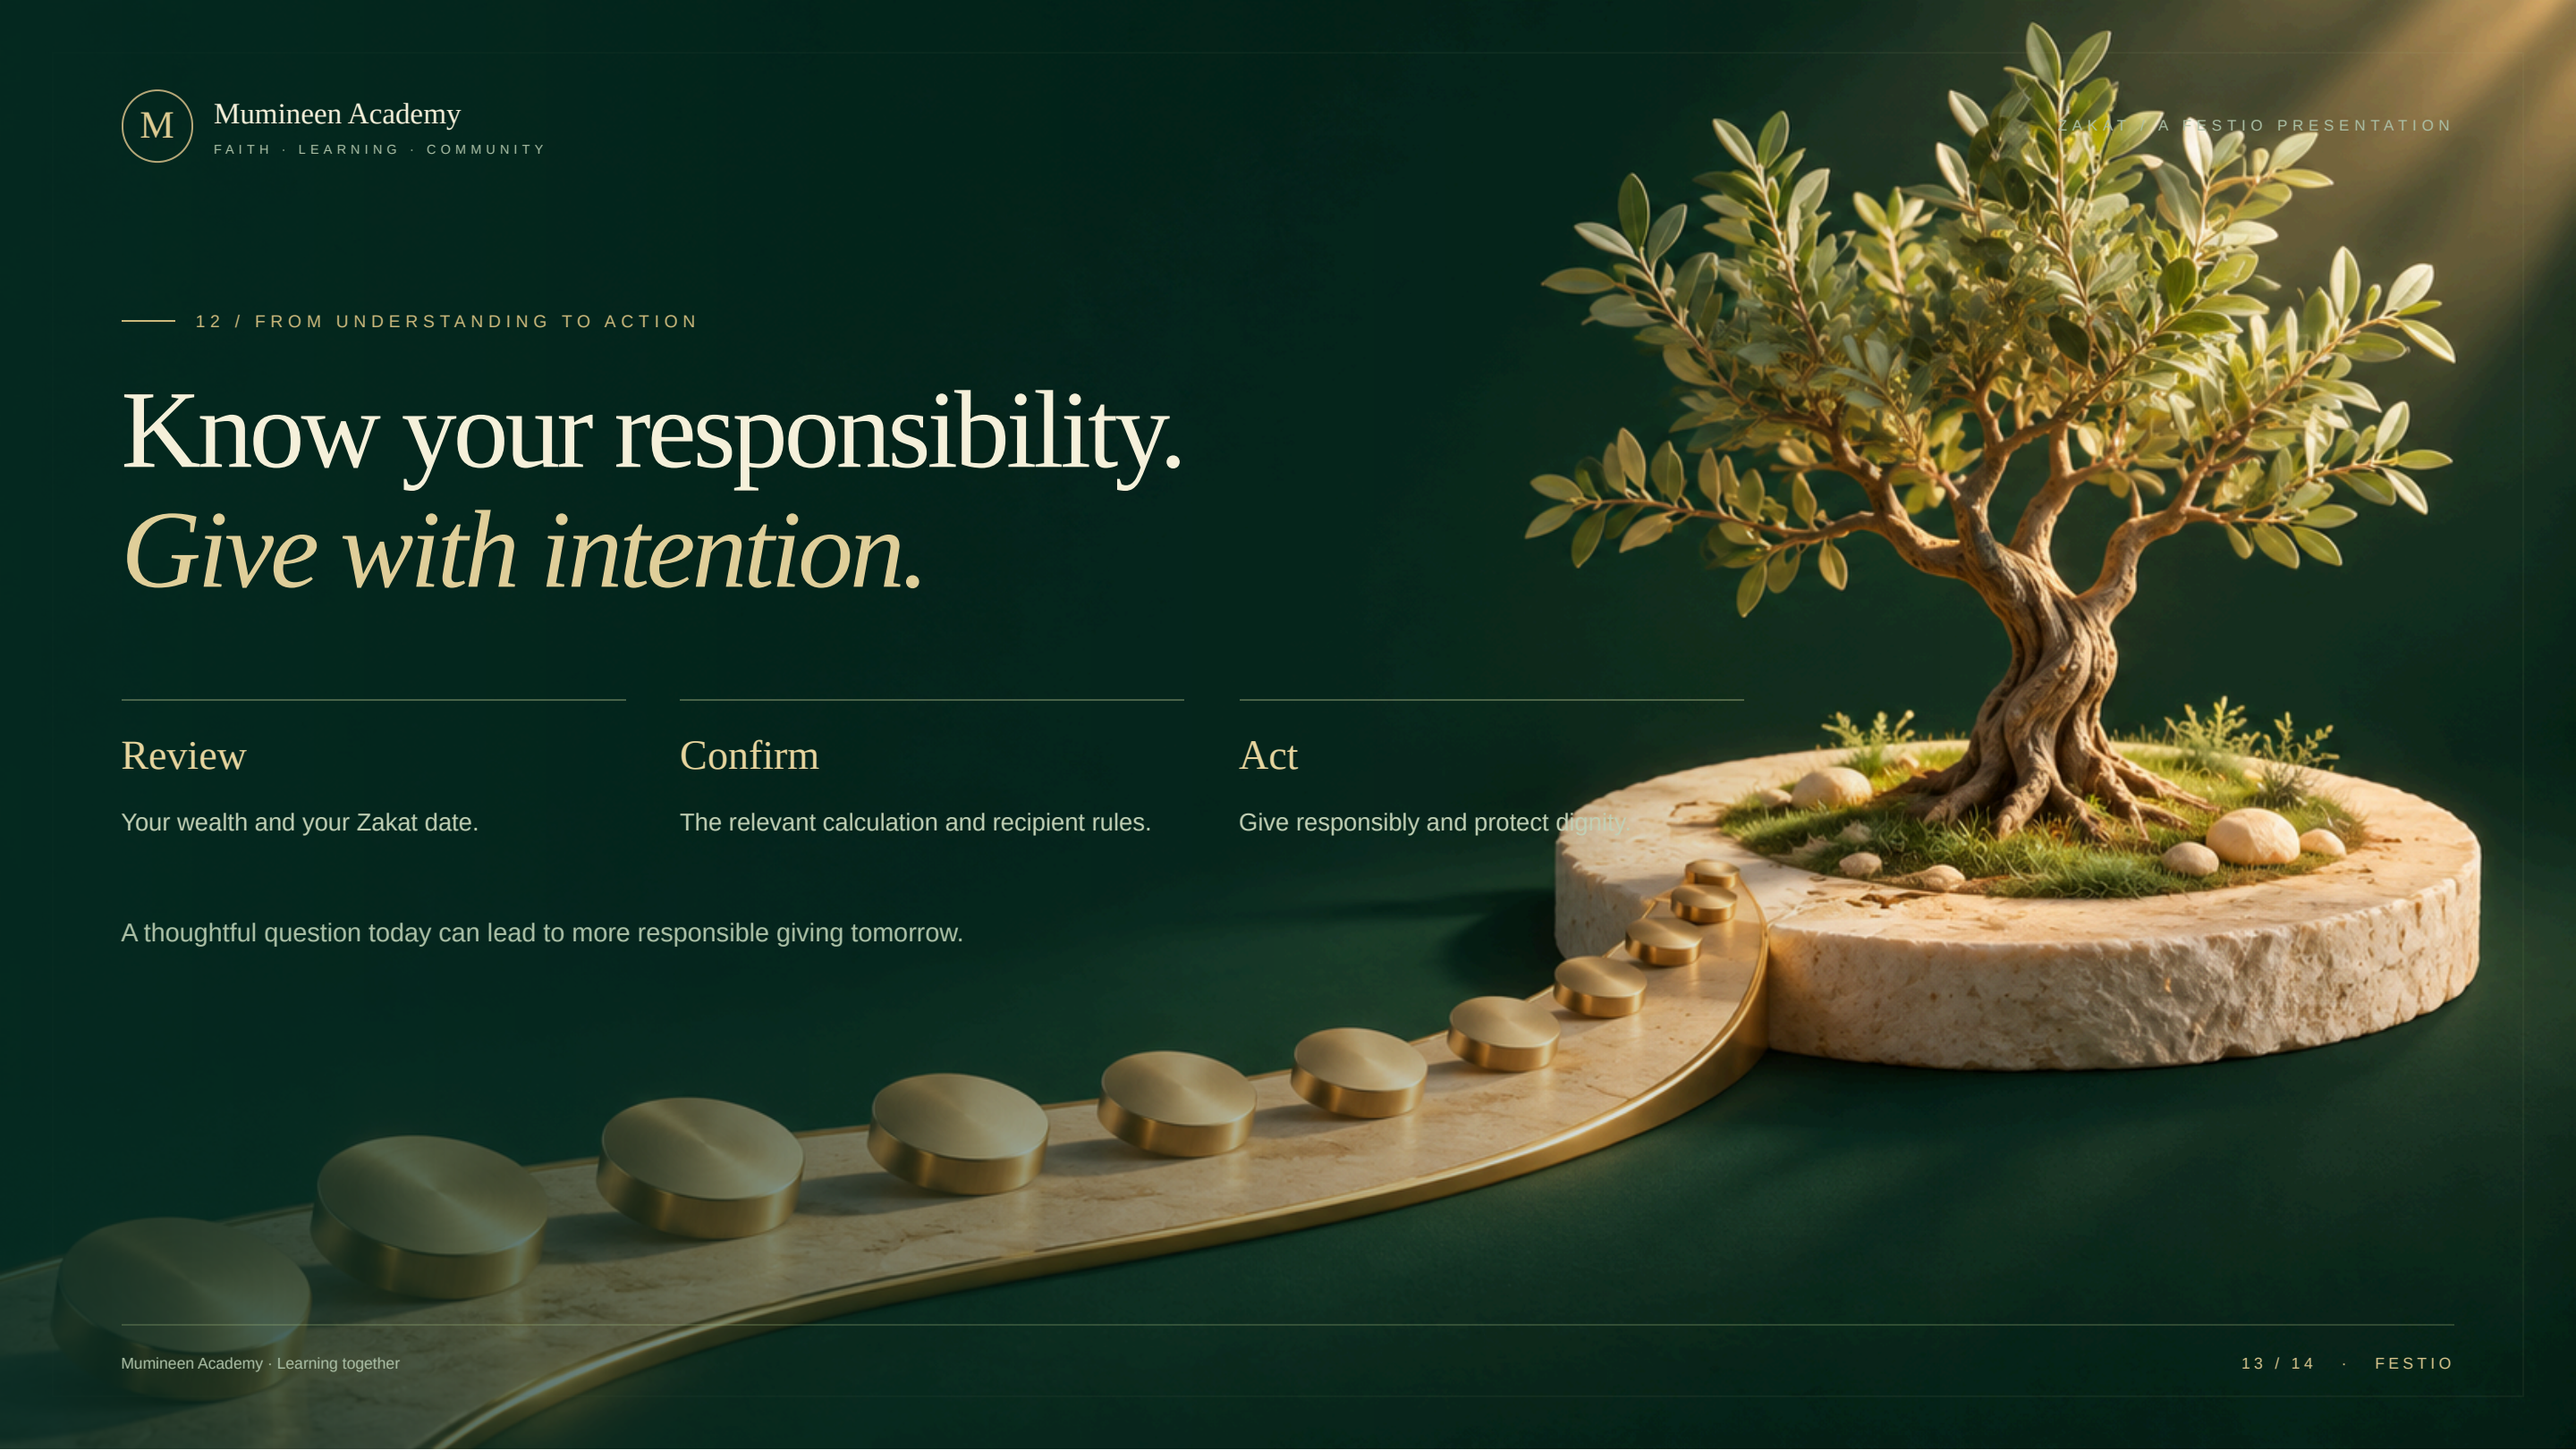

Confirm

The relevant calculation and recipient rules.

Act

Give responsibly and protect dignity.

A thoughtful question today can lead to more responsible giving tomorrow.
